Loynds Candy Drop Roller Machine

Drop roller machines are a low cost solution to producing die formed hard candy sweets.

The machine can be used to produce either solid single colour candies or 2 colour layered candies (1 colour on top of the other). A set of brass rollers with the candy design engraved into them continuously forms a ribbon of candy into the required shape.

The formed candy is then left to cool before the sweets can be broken up, sieved and then processed further or packaged.

The brass rollers can be engraved in various shapes including ovals, rounds, balls, oblongs, pears, lemons, flat drops or various other novelty shapes.

Some bar products can also be made on specially designed rollers.

Further machines can be added to make this a more automated process if required.
